

The Payroll Company, Inc., Announces Monthly Business
Article Series & Jan. 2019 Article Lineup

Albuquerque business owners and local clients of the Albuquerque, New Mexico's The Payroll Company just hit the business information jackpot. Starting in January 2019, and every month going forward thereafter, the company is going to publish four new articles to its website blog. Starting on January 10, 2019, important article subjects and topics being posted on the blog will include payroll (a company favorite) human resources consulting and payroll tax compliance, just to name a few.

States The Payroll Company, Inc., CEO Nestor Romero, "We are really excited about featuring articles on our company's website each month starting here in January 2019, about business topics that concern and impact businesses in New Mexico. Keeping up to date on the latest regulations or learning about important legal issues is hard for small businesses to do. We're happy we can be a resource for that type of information."

The articles on the company's blog for the month of January 2019 are as follows:

- Top Payroll Issues that May Doom Your Business in 2019
- Cool Strategies to Ramp Up 2019 Employee Hiring
- Pluses of Hiring Permanent Employees Opposed to Pluses of Hiring Skilled Contractors
- The Most Sought After Work Benefits Wanted by Employees in 2019

Article subjects the company plans on writing about are extensive. By the end of 2019, the company plans on adding a total of 48 articles, giving New Mexico small businesses and corporations a wonderful selection of articles about business, payroll, personnel and payroll taxes to choose from each month.

Albuquerque, NM, and New Mexico businesses statewide are invited to give the company a call and request it write on article on a business topic they are interested in learning about.
